

Performance Player of the Month

March 2010

Alex Lunn – Mini Orange 1

Alex Lunn has gone from strength to strength over the last 8 months; his tournament record has been exemplary for someone so young. The amount Alex has committed to tennis and his training gives him a very good chance to take his tennis to new heights.

He trains, 3 times a week, over at the International High Performance Centre at Loughborough, which also includes a rigorous fitness session.

Alex has had countless county tournament wins throughout the winter season 2009/10, in Leicester, Derbyshire, Nottingham, Lincolnshire, Shropshire and Warwickshire.

His most recent win was the Mini Orange masters' competition, held at the Dan Maskell centre in Loughborough. Only the top eight boys and girls in Leicestershire and Derbyshire are invited to compete in the event, qualifying through the amount of points they receive for getting so far in each tournament they have entered.

Alex teamed up with tennis club mate Lewis Postle to win the Orange club league event at Knighton Tennis Centre.

Alex has been selected for regional training camps this year. On the strength of Alex's performance at these camps and his overall tournament success and ability, he has then been selected for the National trials.

Keep up the good work!

Well done Alex
